

A new low in TV was half-time Superbowl trash. The entire production was a pay per view, not for the American/world public. This is NOT what the American public wants on television. I hope you will extract heavy fines from all involved, from dancers to CBS. It seems that they do understand loss of money, if not what is appropriate and moral for public consumption.